HOW THIS LEARNER WORKBOOK IS COMPILED

This learner workbook has been compiled to lead learners at this level to be aware of their audiences and purposes for communication. They are able to listen and speak/sign confidently in both formal and familiar settings.

1. Interact successfully in oral/signed communication
2. Use strategies that capture and retain the interest of an audience
3. Identify and respond to manipulative use of language

You have to study the content and guidelines given in your learner reference guide to complete this workbook.

Remember that this completed workbook must be handed in as it will form part of your formative assessment and will play a role in awarding you the required 05 credits that are to be achieved upon completion of this module.

Write neatly and legibly and ensure that you do not simply copy the information contained in the learner reference guide into your workbook. Give your own opinion and ideas where applicable and write the answers in your own words to indicate your level of understanding and learning.

Good luck with the completion of this workbook.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

A learning credited with this unit will be able to:

1. Describe the communication cycle.
2. Interact with any specific audience using the appropriate method of communication.
3. Promote effective communication within a group.
4. Conduct an interview.
5. Participate in a formal meeting.
6. Participate in a debate or negotiations.
7. Use various techniques to re-in force the spoken message.
8. Plan formal communications.
9. Apply verbal and non-verbal communication skills when entering into a conversation and when conversing in writing.
10. Gather and collect and analyse information or unpack information using a method called "brainstorming".
11. Apply relevant communication skills when giving instructions, confirming information, addressing clients, subordinates and senior staff preparing feedback.
12. Interpret and internalise information or repack information using a mind map.
13. Discuss visual aids.
14. Apply techniques to maintain continuity and interaction during a presentation.
15. Describe how a point of view is shaped through choice of language.
16. Identify the manipulative use of language.
17. Analyse the meaning of the text.
18. Distinguish between fact and opinion.

Once you have completed your paragraph, carefully check your writing for fluency and grammatical accuracy.

LEARNER ACTIVITY 2

Each of the following extracts is written in language which may be considered unacceptable or offensive for a number of reasons.

Each needs to be written in a more acceptable manner. Rewrite each, explaining why the changes are needed.

The vastly fat woman walked in, drunk as a lord, farted, wiggled her bum and sat down. "My guts is rumbling," she yelled, "I have to pig out now or I'll go bonkers. That's if I don't snuff first. Bring me food!"

Nigel has finally managed to pass Mathematics. The poor kid worked his butt off, and in the end passed only because I managed to bang some simple theorems into his thick head. He spent most of the Maths period asking me endless bloody questions and whining away about the fact that he couldn't understand anything.

Do you mean we have to teach all the cripples and Mongols in the same room? Yes. At least we've managed to stick the brain damaged learners in another class, together with the lunatics. They will go to the loony bin next year.

And the retards?

They go to the normal college from next year.
