3: Assessment Evidence

Assessment Instruments

TAKE NOTE

The assessment instruments included in this assessment pack are all summative assessment instruments and are to be read in conjunction with the formative assessment instruments contained in the learner workbook. Both formative (workbook) and summative assessments are to be retained as part of the learner's portfolio of evidence.

A number of the assessment instruments contained in this assessment are workplace knowledge based questions.

This means that you will arrange with the learner, a time that is suitable, during which the learner will complete each questions.

Question 1: Case Study:

The Medical Research Council (MRC) wished to document and monitor the prevalence of tobacco use of adolescents aged 13 - 15. They also wanted to assess pupil's knowledge, beliefs and attitudes relating to tobacco-using behaviour. In 2002, they conducted a survey using a sample of 207 schools nationally. They had an 80% participation rate.

- ♦ Do you think it is possible to question every adolescent aged 13 - 15 years in South Africa?

- ♦ Do you think that a sample of 207 schools in South Africa would be sufficient to represent all schools in South Africa?

- ♦ What factors would have been taken into account when selecting a sample of schools to ensure that they are representative of all schools in South Africa?

- ♦ What technique (method) do you think the MRC used to collect the information from school children?

What other methods of data collection could they have used?

- ♦ Can you think of any problems in the methods of collection described in 4) or 5)?

This study investigated the prevalence of tobacco use in adolescents. Think of two other issues relating to society that you believe could be investigated through statistical methods. (E.g. - determining trends in crime and health; considering attitudes or opinions of people on issues. For each one, pose a question that would lead to an investigation of that issue.)

- ◆ Now identify the variables which you believe contribute to or affect each of these problems and which would be addressed in data collection.
